

RECORDS

OBITUARIES

Dorothy P. Marlow

Monmouth/Pendleton

February 11, 1925-November 22, 2013

Dorothy P. Marlow, 88, of Pendleton, Oregon, and recently of Monmouth, Oregon, passed away November 22, 2013, at Salem Hospital. Mom said she had had a very full and adventurous life, and was now ready to go see her deceased family members.

She was born February 11, 1925, in Michigan City, Ind., and spent her childhood growing up in Bloomfield, Neb. Her parents were Ben and Ellen Pearce.

Mom's young adult years were spent attending the University of Oregon and the University of Washington. After moving back to Pendleton where her parents operated the Terminal Café at the Pendleton Bus Station, she married Frank Marlow (3-year marriage) and had 2 daughters. After her divorce, she went to work for the city of Pendleton as administrative assistant to the city manager, for whom she worked many years. She retired after working for the city more than 30 years, and was presented with a Key to the City by the mayor.

As she approached retirement, she bought a motorhome (the first of many) and thoroughly became bitten by the camping/RVing lifestyle. She attended many campouts with family, RVed throughout the USA, and enjoyed time with her friends in the Blue Mountain Good Sam's Club. She also was an active member of PEO, and attended the Methodist church in Pendleton. And she comprehensively documented the family history back to descendants from England and Germany.

Mom is survived by her youngest daughter, Margie Paulson and her spouse Donna Kennedy of Monmouth, whom Mom completely considered her daughter-in-law; granddaughter Tricia Cochran and her husband John and 2 great-granddaughters Anita and Rachel of Kennewick, Wash.; granddaughter April Denby of Kuna, Idaho; her brother Bob Pearce; and her niece and nephew Kathy Morgan and Ben Pearce.

Dorothy was predeceased by her parents and her oldest daughter, Roberta Marlow.

A private family service will be held at a later date. Internment was at Olney Cemetery in Pendleton, Oregon.

The family would like to extend their sincere appreciation for Mom's care at Independence Health and Rehabilitation Center, Gentiva Hospice and the Salem Hospital Neuro-Trauma Care Unit.

The family suggests that memorials may be made to the Salem Hospital Foundation (698 12th St. SE #130, Salem, OR 97301) or Shangri-La of Salem (4080 Reed Road SE, Ste. 150, Salem, OR 97302). Farnstrom Mortuary of Independence is in charge of arrangements. Please share your memories and condolences at www.FarnstromMortuary.com.

OFF PAGE ONE

who came through was able to all the other traditional foods

Staff photo by E. Harris

ult of Hermiston serves La Vada and Gene Jones of ing the Thanksgiving dinner in Hermiston.

turkey, and she will have to forgo deliveries of meals to outlying towns like Echo and Irrigon. However, she said people from those communities are still welcome to come to town for a free Christmas dinner at the Hermiston Senior Center.

Contact Jade McDowell at jmcdowell@eastoregonian.com or 541-564-4536.

n close
winds

nds of baton
eerleaders,
s and per-
g Brett tt and the Fallon and oo Dolls and

ckler said,
the Pit Com

PENDLETON: The Salvation Army gets most of its donations for daily meals from bell ringers

Continued From 1A

Thanksgiving also marks the beginning of the Salvation Army bell ringers, 16 total in Pendleton and Hermiston. Redd and Tina Stinson wear Christmas caps crocheted by Tina while ringing bells and collecting.

The familiar jingle of the Christmas